CASSETTE SHELL CATALOGUE

MonotypePressing offers a wide selection of cassette shells to choose from - you can opt for a transparent shell with black or transparent liner, solid colour variants or different transparent colours. Personalise your order with UV led digital printing, pad printing (tampography), or paper label stickering.

If you are uncertain which method best suits your design, our team is available to offer guidance.

CASSETTE UV ON BODY PRINT

This digital printing technique works in a similar way to ink printing, however the prints are solidified using UV light. UV printing allows for a full-colour design covering the whole surface of the cassette shell.

PLEASE NOTE:

This printing method leaves a thin coating of coloured and durable plastic on the material which may have a subtle textured effect – areas of thicker or darker colour will be more convex.

Because of the need to use special forms, variations in printing are a possibility; this can lead to the paint spreaded unevenly – one print may be slightly different from the other and even ink residue along the edges may appear on the fully printed cassettes. To avoid this completely, consider tampography as an option; it tends to work better with sharp contours.

UV printing does not allow for use of any colours from the Pantone palette. Instead, 4 colors (CMYK) with white as an undercoat - or white alone - can be used.

TIPS:

• Please note that CMYK paints are transparent, therefore the best effect can be achieved on white solid shells

• If you decide to use coloured shells & white undercoat beneath the CMYK print, make it slightly smaller to avoid white frame around the printed artwork

• If you are preparing a file for white print, set the colour to 100% K or 100% magenta. The printing machine interprets white elements in the design as a ‚no print' area.

PAD PRINTING

Pad printing (tampography) involves imprinting an image unto a photosensitive plate and then transferring it with a silicone pad, firmly pressing it into the cassette shell. Tonal variations cannot be attained with this technique, so the design must be 100% of colour.
We offer prints in 6 basic colours: white, black, red, green, blue, lemon yellow, along with two metallic options: silver & gold.

PLEASE NOTE:
It's important to remember that this is a manual process, so slight image displacements of around 2mm in any direction may occur.

STICKER

Full-colour printed paper stickers are another option for cassette labels. CMYK printed, cut and glued to the cassettes, the stickers make a great pair with both solid and transparent shells.
